

ILLINOIS THE PIVOT SILVER MEN THINK

DESPERATE EFFORTS WILL BE MADE THERE.

Vice-Chairman Stevens Interviewed at Washington—Gold Men Are Confident—Bryan to Make a Thorough Canvass in New York State—Campaign Notes.

Washington, Aug. 20.—Vice-Chairman Stevens of the silver party, in discussing the political outlook said: "The combined silver forces have a good fighting chance in a number of states heretofore regarded as close. I think that Minnesota, Indiana and Michigan are safe, and we will do everything possible to carry Ohio and Illinois. The chances appear to be in our favor in Illinois, although the odds are against us now in Ohio. But hard work may pull us through in both those states."

"We have a splendid organization everywhere, even in the east. We are well equipped, both in New York state and city, large and flourishing clubs being located in every town and county. Much will be accomplished by effective work, even in the east, which is considered the stronghold of the gold men. Colorado will give Bryan not less than a plurality of 125,000. The great battleground, however, will be Illinois, and I believe we will carry it."

This belief was probably the one which induced Mr. Bryan to desire the democratic headquarters in Chicago. Illinois is looked upon by many politicians as the state which will be the most bitterly fought for and which will decide the election. Nearly all the western politicians, like Mr. Stevens, are of this opinion. They count on a solid south and west, and they believe that Illinois must be won to win the day.

GOLD MEN ELATED.

Begin to Count the States—Delegates Being Selected.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 20.—Private letters received at the headquarters of the national democratic party (gold) from prominent democrats in New York and other eastern states announce that the free silver democrats have practically abandoned all the states east of the Alleghany mountains. The members of the executive committee have shall outrank the silver democratic large hope that the new movement in the east and in some of the southern states. It is believed that several of the regular democratic state organizations in the east will endorse the new party soon after the national convention has made a platform and ticket. Connecticut is expected to lead in this movement.

States are beginning to report the names of delegates to the convention. The credentials of the Connecticut delegation came in yesterday. Thomas Waller, who was chairman of the state's delegation in the recent Chicago convention, will occupy the same position here. There will be state conventions to elect delegates nearly every day between this and the convention.

New Hampshire names delegates today, Delaware next Saturday, Michigan next Wednesday, Tennessee next Monday, Georgia next Wednesday, Nebraska today, Missouri next Wednesday, Pennsylvania next Tuesday, West Virginia a week from Saturday, Indiana next Wednesday, New York a week from Saturday, Virginia next Wednesday, South Dakota one week from Friday, Wisconsin next Wednesday, North Dakota next Wednesday, Iowa next Wednesday, Louisiana one week from today, Texas next Tuesday, Maine tomorrow, Arkansas one week from today, and North Carolina next Wednesday.

Bourke Cockran will be invited to preside over the convention. The letters received at headquarters show that many men interested in the movement are in favor of Henry Watterson for president. It seems certain that he will be one of the men seriously considered when the delegates get here. The money plank is being written by Secretary Carlisle. It is no longer a secret that there is constant communication between the headquarters of the new party and leading men of the national administration at Washington.

TO STUMP NEW YORK.

Bryan Will Make a Thorough Canvass of the Empire State.

Upper Red Hook, N. Y., Aug. 20.—William Jennings Bryan has determined to make a pretty thorough canvass of the State of New York, and for the first time since the days of Martin Van Buren will make addresses in nearly every important city. He will first go to Albany, the home of David B. Hill. He will visit each big city along the New York Central road. Mr. Bryan will probably speak in Medina, Hornellsville and Jamestown also. Whether or not he will speak in Poughkeepsie, Pine Plains or some other place in this county is not yet decided, but he will probably speak in one of these places. Saturday the party will go over to the Catskills for a day's outing.

Sherman at Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, Aug. 20.—The republican campaign was opened here by Senator Sherman and other speakers. At 11 o'clock the McKinley club gave a parade. The program included speaking at the zoological gardens in the afternoon and evening. Senator Sherman man was the principal speaker, followed by Solicitor Fred Spiegel in German and Congressman Bromwell.

Silverites After Labor Vote.

Washington, Aug. 20.—J. R. Sovereign, general master workman of the Knights of Labor, now attending the meeting of the populist executive committee, will in a few days start for Chicago, where he will open the headquarters of a labor bureau adjunct of the free silver campaign. A corps of speakers will at once be put in the field representing the different labor organizations in and out of the Knights of Labor. Mr. Sovereign will center his efforts on the western states, which seem by common consent to be the main battleground of the present campaign.

Convention of Silver Men.

Pueblo, Col., Aug. 20.—Owing to railway washouts seven miles west of this city the delegates to the democratic state convention from the west and south failed to arrive until after 6 o'clock last night. While the sentiment of a majority of the delegates is for fusion with all silverites of both populist and bolting republicans, everybody has individual views how to proceed, and little progress toward definite action has been made. The resolutions committee will provide for fusion, but their report may be amended by the convention.

Missouri Republican Leaguers.

Milan, Mo., Aug. 20.—The attendance Wednesday at the opening of the Missouri republican state campaign at Chillicothe was not as great a success as was expected, owing to the report that had gone out that Thurston, Ingalls and Foraker had backed out. The committee on resolutions reported as follows: "We, the representatives of the republican league of the state of Missouri, hereby heartily endorse the national and state platforms adopted at St. Louis and Springfield."

Senator Burrows at Decatur, Ill.

Decatur, Ill., Aug. 20.—The tabernacle was crowded Wednesday night to hear Senator Burrows of Michigan discuss the coinage and tariff questions. Mayor D. H. Conklin introduced Senator Burrows and he received an ovation as he arose. His address in the main was a repetition of his speech delivered at the Jacksonville meeting Tuesday.

Kentucky Gold Convention.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 20.—The Kentucky convention of the gold democratic party is held to-day. Over nine-tenths of the counties will be represented, nearly all by the full complement of delegates. Ex-Gov. S. B. Buckner will probably receive the instructions for vice-president, but no instructions for president will be given.

Democrats of Texas.

Forth Worth, Tex., Aug. 20.—The state democratic convention reconvened at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. C. A. Culbertson was nominated for governor. The platform adopted ratifies the acts of the Chicago convention. There is no manifest disposition to share electors with the populists.

Speaker Reed Makes a Speech.

Portland, Me., Aug. 20.—The Lincoln club held a flag-raising last night and serenaded Thomas B. Reed, who came in from his summer residence at Grand Beach for the purpose.

Asks About the Key West Matter.

Madrid, Aug. 20.—In the chamber of deputies Wednesday a Carlist member asked what measures the government had taken to demand redress for the outrage reported to have been inflicted upon the Spanish flag by the people of Key West, Fla., recently. The minister of the interior, in reply, said that this was not the moment to discuss the matter. Thereupon the Carlist deputy retorted that the government always invoked the patriotism of the chamber in order to impose silence upon the deputies when awkward questions were asked.

Matthews Would Be a Senator.

Ligonier, Ind., Aug. 20.—It is stated that the democrats and populists will effect a coalition in a number of northern counties on candidates for the legislature. This movement is believed to be in the interest of Gov. Matthews for United States senator to succeed Senator Voorhees. The movement is looked upon as having considerable significance, and confirms the belief that Gov. Matthews is an avowed candidate for the senate.

Joe Patchen Clips His Record.

Rigby Park, Me., Aug. 20.—The races Wednesday were viewed by 25,000 people. Joe Patchen, the pacing stallion, went against the world's stallion record of 2:03 1/4, made by John R. Gentry in Columbus last week. The track was in good shape, but a strong wind was blowing. His mile was made as follows: First quarter, 30 3/4; half, 1:00; three-fourths, 1:30 3/4; mile, 2:03 3/4. This is a quarter second off his record.

P plunge to Instant Death.

Canton, O., Aug. 20.—An engine was overturned on the C. C. & S. railroad last evening and rolled down a steep embankment. Engineer Joseph Kirk and Fireman John Hardesty were instantly killed. Brakeman Ed Seymour was on the engine, but escaped with slight injuries. The engine was derailed and ran sixty feet before turning over. The cause of the accident is not known.

GOLD IS RETURNING IN LARGE AMOUNTS

IMPORTS ON A LIBERAL SCALE
SOON TO BEGIN.

Wall Street Agitated By Sensational Financial Tidings—Twenty-five Million Dollars May Come to Us—Acting Secretary Curtis Hears of It.

New York, Aug. 20.—Wall street was agitated Wednesday by the news of actual preparations for the early importation of $2,000,000 in gold and by the statements that this action would freshen an inflow of the yellow metal on an extensive scale, the estimates ranging from $15,000,000 to $25,000,000.

It became known that certain leading bank presidents, including J. Edward Simmons of the Fourth National and F. D. Tappan of the Gallatin National, had been in conference regarding measures providing for gold importations, but no definite information was obtained as to the outcome of the discussion.

The developments referred to followed a further sharp break in sterling exchange to the basis of 48 1/2 for demand bills and a similar reduction in posted quotations by a leading drawer to 48 1/2 and 48 1/4. A small lot of demand sold at 48 1/2, as compared with 48 1/2 Tuesday, and a large remittance operation took place at 48 1/2. It is variously estimated that there is a profit in the transaction proposed by Lazard Freres of 1/4 to 3/4 per cent, but members of the firm were indisposed to enter into such details.

It is said that the engagement referred to is independent of any combination, but further individual imports are expected. The growing expectation of the early imports of gold had been previously reported. The rapid break in exchange, extending to 2 1/4 cents since the close of the previous week, is almost entirely due to the operations of the so-called exchange syndicate. Uptown importers being unable, owing to the continued tightness of time money, to secure discounts, are unable to buy exchange, and this fact accounts for the limited demand. This condition enables the exchange syndicate to depress exchange to a point that renders practicable imports of gold. Large amounts of sterling loans have also been made, and, in addition, there are increased offerings of grain and cotton futures, chiefly the latter.

The effect of the developments noted on the stock market was decidedly beneficial, although minimized, to a certain extent, by the prevailing speculative apathy and the fact that for some time past commission houses have in many instances refused to accept orders, except for cash.

The favorable feature in Wednesday's stock market was a decline in call money at the close to 2 per cent, as against an early high figure of 4 per cent.

Mr. Curtis Hears of It.

Washington, Aug. 20.—Acting Secretary of the Treasury Curtis received a telegram from the assistant treasurer at New York stating that arrangements had been made there to import $2,000,000 in gold coin from Europe. While foreign exchange is slightly above the usual importing point, it is said that, should it continue to decline during the next few days as rapidly as during the last week, gold importations from Europe would yield a good profit. The officials are hopeful that the tide has turned, and that from now on the reserve will be rapidly increased. The treasury Wednesday lost $153,600 in gold coin and $13,600 in bars, which leaves the true amount of the reserve at $104,361,051.

May Prove a Fizzle.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 20.—Local republicans fear that the coming convention of the republican league may prove a fizzle. Since the announcement of McKinley's refusal to attend they have been greatly worried. For some time there have been rumors that Hanna, Payne and other republican leaders consider the republican league a stumbling block that is liable at any time to compromise the party, and this feeling may be responsible for the inability to induce the republican national committee to send any of its big guns here next week.

Young People's Christian Union.

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 20.—The convention of the Young People's Christian union made itself felt Wednesday when the delegates began arriving in crowds. There are nearly 2,000 delegates in the city already. The convention opened in the evening in Creighton theater, where all the sessions will be held. The convention proper opened this morning and sessions will be held morning, afternoon and evening, when the convention will complete its labors.

To Be the Guest of the Nation.

STRIKERS EARNEST IN THEIR CRUSADE

TROUBLE THREATENED AT ELWOOD, INDIANA.

Men Have the Country Picketed So That No Enemy Can Pass—Militia May Have to Be Called Out—Electric Wires Put Up—Other Labor News.

Elwood, Ill., Aug. 20.—The biggest labor demonstration that ever took place in this city was held Wednesday night by the tin plate strikers and their sympathizers on the public square, and fully 2,500 workmen crowded around the band stand to hear President Garland of the Amalgamated Association and President Compers of the Federation of Labor address them on the tin plate difficulty.

Both speakers reviewed it at some length, and said that the Amalgamated association was only seeking what was right, and that the reasons given by the company for not signing the scale were untenable, and that no concessions would be made. They declared this company had an advantage over the other companies in the matter of free fuel and making its own steel, and said the Amalgamated association had nothing to concede.

Wednesday was the day set apart for the 1,300 striking employees of the American Tin Plate Company to apply for their positions, as individuals, at the company's scale of wages. The union men say that no one will go back to work, nor will non-union men be allowed to enter the factory. The strikers have details of men on duty, six hours each, and only officers of the company are allowed to go back and forth. The men say they can get 5,000 men to help them within three hours.

The company has strung electric wires around the grounds and placed barbed wire on the fences and will demand protection from the state and county. The sheriff says he will be ready to act promptly. The union men say the great mills of the country almost unanimously have signed the old scale and that there is neither justice nor condition that operates to put in force a 15 per cent cut in wages. The cut, they say, will be resisted to the last, and help will be given the mill workers of Elwood by kindred organizations.

The adjutant general said that no troops had been ordered to be in readiness and that it lies with the governor to issue such an order.

Print Works Shut Down.

Lawrence, Mass., Aug. 20.—Notice has been given that the Pacific Print works will shut down from August 29 to September 8. This will throw about 2,500 hands out of employment. Agent Parker declined to state the reason for this action on the part of the corporation.

VICTORY FOR EIGHT-HOUR LAW

First Successful Prosecution for Its Violation.

Washington, Aug. 20.—The first successful prosecution for violation of the eight-hour law, passed by congress in 1892 in the interest of the workingmen of the country, occurred here Wednesday when a verdict of guilty was returned against W. W. Winfree, a contractor, for remodeling a local school building. Many contractors on government buildings and government work have been prosecuted under this law, but a clause giving them permission to overwork men "in case of emergency" has always heretofore been successfully invoked. The maximum penalty is six months in jail and $1,000 fine. A motion was made for a new trial.

W. Newby, or "Dan Benton," Released.

Chester, Ill., Aug. 20.—The famous William Newby, or rather Dan Benton, whose case has attracted the attention of the soldier fraternity throughout the country, was discharged from the Chester penitentiary Tuesday after an incarceration of eighteen months. He was convicted in the United States circuit court at Springfield on a charge of presenting a fraudulent soldier's claim against the government, alleging that he had never been discharged from the service. He was found guilty and sentenced to two years' imprisonment in the penitentiary at this place and to pay a fine and the cost of suit.

BASEBALL REPORT.

Games Played in the National League Yesterday.

Again blood has been spilt on a league field, and this time by rowdies at-bat behind the ropes against the right field fence at the Polo grounds, New York, and Anson's men were forced to go in and defend their comrade. Cincinnati keeps right on winning, because she is playing steadier ball than any team in the league, and Baltimore went down before St. Louis. The closing games may demonstrate that either the clubs of the west play better ball against Baltimore because of dislike, or that some eastern clubs have put up listless ball because they want games to fall that way. Yesterday's scores:

BRUTAL MURDER.

Trouble Over a Woman Leads to a Killing at McLeansboro, Ill.

McLeansboro, Ill., Aug. 20.—One of the most brutal murders that has ever been on record in this county occurred about five miles east of this city at 1 o'clock Wednesday morning.

A. M. Ray, a wealthy farmer, 65 years of age, shot and instantly killed Joshua Biggerstaff, a young man aged 25. For some time Ray and Biggerstaff's mother, aged 63, had been meeting in a woods pasture near their home, and the woman's family grew suspicious of her conduct, and some time ago her husband upbraided Ray about it. Since then both men have gone armed.

Wednesday morning Biggerstaff and his brother started to a neighbor's home to get a friend to go fishing, and while going through the woods pasture Ray stepped from behind a tree and struck Biggerstaff with his gun, breaking both jaw bones, and then shot him in the head. Ray was arrested.

Window Glass Panned.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 20.—Representatives of the Pittsburg Window Glass Company and the Indiana combine met here Wednesday for the purpose of establishing a central sales agency to control the output of the country. To this end the meeting appointed a committee to draft a plan of procedure which will be satisfactory to all concerned. When this committee completes its work another meeting will be called. There is now about $15,000,000 capital invested in window-glass plants, which have in use 1,384 pots and give employment to about 10,000 men.

Small Kansas Bank Suspend.

Argentine, Kan., Aug. 20.—The Argentine Bank was closed Wednesday by Examiner A. Waterman. The bank, he says, had some bad loans and could not make sufficient collection to tide it over. The liabilities are placed at about $190,000 of which $122,500 is due to depositors. The bank owes other banks $2,380, and has cash amounting to $7,800 on hand. It had been considered one of the most solid concerns in the state. During the panic of 1893 it met all demands.

ICE FIRED A TRAIN ON THE ST. PAUL

MELTED AND SLACKED A LOT OF LIME.

Wrecking Crew Could Do Nothing Because of the Intense Heat and Had to Wait Until the Seething Mass Cooled Down—Much Damage Done.

Milwaukee Aug. 20.—A wreck on the Northern division of the C. M. & St. P. last night displayed the odd feature of a train set on fire by ice. Ice is not commonly classed as inflammable material and no special precautions are taken to prevent the combustion of ice cars, but there is one material which ice will set on fire and that is lime.

In the wrecked train were several carloads of ice and lime, and after the collision, which was not serious in itself, these two antagonistic materials lay scattered about. The weather was quite cool, but after a time the ice began to melt and the water trickled down upon the lime, which began to slack. The lime was soon a seething mass, and the intense heat developed set fire to the woodwork of the cars. The officers had estimated that only two or three hours should be required to clean up the wreckage, which lay in a deep cut, but when the lime began to slack, the men had to be withdrawn from the immediate vicinity of the intense heat and until after midnight they sat powerless to do anything except watch the wreckage burn.

LAWYERS IN SESSION.

American Bar Association Meets at Saratoga Springs.

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 20.—Convention Hall was more than comfortably packed with representative members of the bar from all portions of the United States at 10:30 Wednesday, when Moorfield Storey of Massachusetts called to order the nineteenth annual convention of the American Bar Association. Just before the commencement of proceedings Lord Chief Justice Russell of England, accompanied by Sir Frank Lockwood, Q. C. M. P., and Montague Crackanthorpe, Q. C., were escorted to the platform, the convention rising en masse to give the distinguished visitors an enthusiastic greeting.

After the convention had been called to order President Storey delivered his annual address and routine reports of the other officers were taken up for consideration. The most important portion of President Storey's address was devoted to railway reorganization.

The report of the committee on international law appointed by the convention last year on "international arbitration" was read. The committee is composed of Everett P. Wheeler of New York, Richard M. Venable of Massachusetts and Martin D. Follett of Ohio. The report concludes:

"Your committee is not prepared at present to recommend a definite plan for the appointment of an international court of arbitration, but they do recommend for adoption the following resolutions:

"Resolved, That the American Bar Association concur in the resolutions adopted by the American conference on international arbitration at Washington, D. C., April 22, 1896."

The evening session was a comparatively brief one. James M. Woolworth of Omaha, Neb., read a paper on "The Development of the Law of Contracts." A paper was also read by Joseph D. Warren of Boston. At the close of the evening session all proceeded to the residence of Judge George S. Batchelor, where a reception was given in honor of Lord Russell. It was continued until midnight.

National Party of Illinois.

Decatur, Ill., Aug. 20.—A start toward a state organization of the national party was made Wednesday afternoon, but signs of the old struggle between the broad and narrow gauge prohibitionists appeared the first thing. Those in favor of the state organization and ticket think an effort is to be made to get the convention to fuse with the prohibitionists, the very thing they don't want, or to adjourn without organizing.

BICYCLE ORDINANCE BOOMS TRADE

Rush in the Sale of Lamps and Bells—Dealers Pleased.

The passing of the bicycle ordinance by the council delighted local dealers. As will be seen by the ordinance published in another column bells and lanterns are de rigueur. With the season almost at an end, therefore, the stores experience a cheering rush in the sale of lamps and bells. One local dealer who had a show case well filled with lamps and bells has been wondering if he possibly could dispose of his stock before the new goods came upon the market. Yesterday his mind was relieved, and it looked as if another order would be given the wholesaler. Chief Acheson says that all riders must comply with the ordinance, as he has been instructed to enforce it to the letter.

KILLED HIS COW WITH A STOOL

German Preacher of Evansville, Wis., Forgets The Fifth Commandment.

There is a snake story flavor about the Evansville dispatch to the Chicago papers saying: "The German minister here accidentally killed his valuable Jersey cow with his milking stool. While he was milking the animal she attempted to injure one of his children, when the preacher took the stool he was sitting on and struck her on the head. She fell dead as quickly as if she had been knocked down by a butcher's ax."

NO NEED OF A PANIC IN CLINTON

Business Man Insists That Doctors Are Responsible For the Scare.

"The squabble between Clinton doctors over diphtheria cases, has killed business," said a Clinton business man today. "It is disgraceful that such petty quarreling should be allowed. There has been no more sickness than is seen in many small towns and no attention would have been attracted to it had professional rivalry not been aroused. The three deaths would have been forgotten by this time had people kept their heads."

MORTGAGED LOT SOLD FOR $500.

C. L. Valentine Bids In Property For the Richard O'Donnell Estate.

Sheriff W. H. Appleby sold lot 168 in Pease's addition to Janesville, in front of the Post Office at auction yesterday afternoon. The property was sold to satisfy a mortgage given by C. Kohler and held by the Richard O'Donnell estate. The property was bid in by Charles Valentine for the estate for $500.

ROOTERS ALL HERE TO FACE DEFEAT

MILTON TURNED OUT A LOUD- VOICED THROG.

Despite All Their Encouragement the Nine From the Seventh Day Community Could Not Find Pitcher Dixon's Curves—How the Game Came Out.

If Janesville turned out to a ball game the way Milton does Athletic Park wouldn't hold the crowd. When Janesville best Milton 12 to 4 yesterday there were among other Milton spectators two sixty year old men who had ridden down on bicycles to see the game. If Milton were not so utterly opposed to betting it is safe to say that a good many more than two would have gone home after the game on foot. Among the Milton folks who watched the game were:

Messrs. and Mesdames—
C. W. Crumb,
H. Johnson,
E. A. Holmes,

With all that crowd of "rooters" Milton could get but two little hits off Pitcher Dixon. Frank Dixon in left field did well, also, accepting five difficult chances without an error.

Farmers Appreciate The Fallacy of Free Silver Arguments.

Ex-Governor Hoard declared last evening that he could see the silver craze was on the wane.

"Wherever I have been in the last three weeks," he said to a Gazette reporter, "I have found people getting back to their senses. Farmers have made up their minds that they cannot get something for nothing under free silver any more than they could under free paper."

CROWDS WILL SEE WILD WEST For Fifty Miles Around People Are Preparing To Visit Janesville.

A feature of the Buffalo Bill show will be the attendance from the surrounding country. The Janesville date has been advertised for fifty miles in every direction, and August 27 the trains will be crowded. The great significance of the performance is not realized by some. Murat Halstead says:

"Twenty-five years hence it will be impossible to reproduce such thrilling phases of frontier life, as it would be today to enact the Grecian games at Olympia. Greeks, it is true, still exist, but the Greeks of the days of Heracles have vanished. The splendid assemblage of temples on the banks of Alpheus stream, are in wreck and ruin; the discus-throwers, the wrestlers and the chariot-racers of ancient Hellas, have melted into dust. So in a generation's time will have disappeared from our western plains and mountain fastness, the cowboy and the painted savage, forever. From an educational standpoint of view, rather than as an amusement, should every American study the Wild West show."

"There is one new feature worth traveling a thousand miles to see, and that is the cavalry of four nations—the United States, England, Germany and France. A troop of the cavalry of each of these nations appear in the regulation uniform, bearing their respective flags, and the bold riders going through the most elaborate evolutions, display all the wickeries of consummate horsemanship. They are as well worth seeing as the cowboys or the savages, the Mexicans or the Cossacks. The one sight that ought to interest every American is the gallant company of the United States cavalry. As our men have usually been in hard service or remote stations the great masses of our people are most wholly unacquainted with them; so that the exhibition of a troop of our regular horsemen is as novel as it is pleasing."

Buffalo Bill will be in Janesville in person on the 27th, and the show will, we are assured, be just the same as it was given at Chicago during the World's Fair.

EX-SHERIFF MATSON WAS HERE.

Man Who Hung the Anarchists Attended the Janesville Reunion.

Among the people who attended the Soldiers and Sailors reunion was a thick set man whom many mistook for S. S. Obouta, of Milton. He was ex-Sheriff Canute R. Matson, of Chicago. Mr. Matson is the man who had the job of hanging the Chicago anarchists, and he has to tell some of his army friends about it every time he attends a Thirteenth Regiment reunion.

Scare Among Parrot Owners.

Visitors to Paris cannot have failed to notice the long rows of psittacous birds displayed for sale on the quays that border the Seine, for if by chance the variegated spectacle escaped their eyes their ears must have informed them of the neighborhood of the loud voiced creatures. It seems, however, that this flourishing industry is at present in danger, if not absolutely doomed to extinction, greatly to the horror and alarm of the syndicat des Oisellers. Prof. Gilbert, physician to the Broussais hospital and chief of the therapeutic laboratory of the faculty having traced several cases of infectious disease among his patients to parrots, felt constrained to reopen the old controversy and so effectual has been his demonstration of this channel for contagion that the love of the Parisians for their gayly plumed pets has undergone complete revulsion. The sale of parrots has consequently dwindled down to next to nothing and to make matters worse the desire to get rid of the discredited birds has led to immense numbers being thrown upon the market, causing an unprecedented glut. —London Lancet.

Four Years of French Gunners.

Paris, Aug. 20.—During the artillery practice of the French Mediterranean squadron yesterday, off Toulon, Admiral Gervais and his staff had a narrow escape. Instead of aiming at a target which was being towed 500 yards behind the flagship Brennus, a battleship of 11,000 tons' displacement, the cruiser Vautour turned her quick-fire guns on the flagship for some time. The shots rained around Admiral Gervais and his staff and their escape was a miracle. The glass in the admiral's conning-tower was riddled and a sailor was wounded. There is much mystery as to how the mistake occurred, as it is thought impossible that the gunners could have missed the mark by 500 yards.

Meet at Wilmington.

Wilmington, Del., Aug. 20.—The national convention of the Irish Catholic Benevolent Union of the United States opened here Wednesday with several hundred delegates in attendance. Escorted by the Knights of St. Lawrence and Ancient Order of Hibernians, the delegates marched in a body of St. Peter's cathedral, where high mass was celebrated. On returning from the service the convention was called to order in Shield's hall by Daniel W. Lynch of this city, the national president, who delivered his annual address.

Topeka Goes Back Eight Hundred Years.

Topeka, Kas., Aug. 20.—The city council has enacted a curfew law. The fire bell will ring every evening fifteen minutes before the hour.

Col. Bouck Would Be Governor.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 20.—Colonel Gabe Bouck of Oshkosh announces in an interview that he is a candidate for governor on the democratic ticket. Bouck is about 70 years of age and worth between $60,000 and $300,000. He is a free-silver advocate of the strongest kind.

Arrested After Nine Years.

Perry, O. T., Aug. 20.—Sheriff Andy Polson has been arrested by a deputy United States marshal on a charge of having murdered a wealthy cattle man named Long, some nine years ago. Polson was suspected at the time of the murder, but was not prosecuted.

"Boys will be boys" but you can't afford to lose any of them. Be ready for the green apple season by having DeWitt's Colic and Cholera Cure in the house. C. D. Stevens.

Waukesha County Fair.

For the above occasion the Northwestern line, still, on August 24 to 28 inclusive, sell excursion tickets to Waukesha and return at very low rates, good returning until and including Aug. 29, 1896. For tickets and full information apply to agents Chicago & Northwestern R'y.

It doesn't matter much whether sick headache, biliousness, indigestion and constipation are caused by neglect or unwholesome constancies; DeWitt's Little Early Risers will speedily cure them all. C. D. Stevens.

Servant Question Again.

The appearance of the following ironical advertisement in the South-eastern Herald of England intimates that domestic service is becoming a burning question in England also: "General servant required; board-school training; liberal wages; use of piano; time allowed for practicing violin and dancing; all evenings out; followers unlimited; dirty work done by mistress and daughters; early riser objected to; bicycle and modern costume provided; latch key; highest references given, none required."

Will Ask Extension.

The recharter is to be asked to prolong till September, 1899, the provisional arrangement by which the federal council council is empowered to fix the scale of dues on the North Sea and Baltic canal. The traffic returns of the canal for the first eight months after its opening show that 8,806 vessels, with an aggregate burden of 976,478 tons, passed through the canal, and that the receipts were 605,050 marks.

THE BLUES.

A GRAPHIC DESCRIPTION OF THE DREADFUL FEELING.

What Is Meant by This Form of Acute Misery—Where Doctors Make Mistakes.

When a cheerful, brave, light-hearted woman is suddenly plunged into that perfection of misery, the BLUES, it is a sad picture.

It is usually this way:—

She has been feeling "out of sorts" for some time; head has ached, and back also; has slept poorly; been quite nervous, and nearly fainted once or twice; head dizzy, and heart has beat very fast; then that bearing-down feeling.

Her doctor says, "cheer up, you have dyspepsia; you'll be all right soon."

But she doesn't get "all right." She grows worse day by day, till all at once she realizes that a distressing female complaint is established.

Her doctor has made a mistake. She has lost faith in him; hope vanishes; then comes the brooding, morbid, melancholy, everlasting BLUES. Her doctor, if he knew, should have told her and cured her, but he did not, and she was allowed to suffer. By chance she came across one of Mrs. Pinkham's books, and in it she found her very symptoms described and an explanation of what they meant. Then she wrote to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for advice, feeling that she was telling her troubles to a woman. Speedy relief followed, and vigorous health returned.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound instantly asserts its curative powers in all those peculiar ailments of women. It has been the standby of intelligent American women for twenty years, and the story recited above is the true experience of hundreds of women, whose letters of gratitude are to be found on file in Mrs. Pinkham's library.

of a bohemian for many years after leaving Cam-ders and became vicar of Dean Prior, in Devonshire.

The long parliament ejected him, but he was restored by Charles II. Herrick's poems were neglected for more than a century after his death. Since 1810 several editions of Herrick's works have been published in England and America and some of his shorter songs

ides" is the most noted.

A BARLEY AND TOBACCO LAW

Mr. Bryan's idea that the government should fix a price on silver and then prevent bullion from falling below that price by purchasing the entire product of the mines is rank communism. If the principle can be applied in the case of silver, it can be applied with equal justice and advantage in the case of corn, oats and tobacco. A law covering the purchase of barley and tobacco would be very much to the purpose in Rock county this summer, and there is quite as much reason for the creation of a government monopoly in barley and tobacco as there is for one in silver. The farmer has as much right to use the treasury vaults as storage for his surplus crops as the mine owner has to use them as a strong box for his surplus silver. And the government, in buying silver for its coinage, has the same right to deal in the open market, where prices are regulated by supply and demand, that it has in purchasing flour and meat for its army.

SENATOR STEWART'S RECORD.

Senator Stewart can't live down his record in one campaign. He is supporting Bryan and free silver ardently and enthusiastically but he doesn't say why on June 11, 1874, sixteen months after the act of 1873 was passed, he said: "I believe the sooner we come down to a purely gold standard the better it will be for the country." Nor does he explain why a day or two later he declared: "Gold has never compromised. It has made the world respect it all the time."

Mr. Stewart was a sound money man in those days, and stood for an honest dollar, but today he is for silver inflation and a 53 cent dollar. Gold occupies exactly the same place today that it did twenty-two years ago. It is Senator Stewart's mind and his highly elastic financial principles that have changed.

People are beginning to find out that there never was a "crime of '73."

Not the slightest semblance of deceit or cunning has been fastened on the law passed in 1873, after having been under deliberation for three years.

From this one elaborately cultivated lie voters may judge how many more pitfalls are laid to entrap them into financial suicide for the purely selfish benefit of bullion owners and producers.

What does all this talk signify about

"restoring silver to the place it originally held?" Silver was originally coined at its bullion value. The size of the coin changed from time to time as the bullion value changed. To go back to the bullion value today would mean silver at a ratio of 60 to 1. That wouldn't please mine-owners as well as the present arrangement.

The newspapers that advise farmers to vote for free silver and be made rich, this year, are the ones who advised them four years ago to vote for free trade and be made rich. Riches that resemble the free trade sort are not in great demand.

"No government can get on without it preserves its honor," says McKinley; and the people of the United States will see that their government is not prevented from getting on by such a blow to its credit as the free silverites propose to strike.

Bryan's cause in Nebraska has suffered from the fact that he was the guest of a wealthy banker while in New York, and ate five-course dinners.

On one issue there seems to be no doubt. Rock county is for John C. Spooner for senator, first, last, and all the time.

The contrast between Bryan's speech and Cochran's speech was that Cochran knew what he was talking about.

ODD METHOD OF PERFUMING.

Injecting the Favorite Scent Under Fair Skin.

Very curious and not without its suggestion of danger is the newest feminine fad, which started in Paris, then made its way across the channel to London and within the past month has begun to win popularity in some quarters in New York, says the New York Journal. It is the latest method of perfuming and is accomplished with the aid of a hypodermic syringe deftly manipulated. The doctor, or whoever is working the little instrument that until now has been entirely a medical one—and some Parisians have already learned to perfume in this way with great skill—forces in the point of the tiny hollow needle so gently that it pierces the skin and no more. Then, with a further pressure, he injects a few drops of the pungent perfume. That is all that is required. From that moment the skin is charged, as it were, with the scent, and a faint, subtle, illusive odor seems to breathe itself forth from the fair woman who has yielded to this freak of fashion. The story of its introduction is at least a curious one. A Paris physician, who is an experimenter and a chemist, had a woman friend—a fashionable lady—who was always in search of the unique and the new. He met her one day on the Bois. "I have a sensation for you," he said. The lady arched her eyebrows prettily. "And what is it?" she asked. "Come to my office to-morrow morning," was all the doctor would say as he walked away. Complete success crowned the first experiment and madame threw away thereupon her entire stock of sachets. Though a secret of the boudoir, it was too good a one to remain a secret long, and it was but a short time before other women had found it out and were clamoring to be allowed to try it. The clever doctor had a new specialty at once, and many were the women that he perfumed by the hypodermic each day, using the favorite scent of each. Not very difficult, however, is the trick of using the hypodermic needle, and before many weeks had passed women found that their maids could be taught to perform the little operation, or at a pinch they could do it themselves. The news spread rapidly; in that secret way the mysteries of the toilet are communicated to London, and made a hit in the "inner circle" of that town. Its spread to New York has been slower and fewer have taken it up for the possible reason that more American women have a horror of morphine and connect the hypodermic syringe with that drug.

Shall We? When we all have made our millions, and on terrapin we sup, And play at stocks and railroads instead of seven up, Do you think our thoughts will linger with persistency intense On the time when we were dining for the sum of fifteen cents? Do you think we'll feel a yearning for the days before the boom, When we stored our few possessions in a six-by-seven room? Do you think we'll linger sadly at the Greenback Club to quote Reminiscences of dinners at the side-street table d'hote? I have known them do it often—in a novel, it is true— Weep for days when coats were threadbare and the bills were always due; And my fond anticipation is that some day you and I Shall be in the proud position where we'll have a chance to try.

FLAGG CARRIES OFF THE CAKE BASKET

EDGERTON MAN NOMINATED FOR ASSEMBLY.

Second District Convention Held In Milton—Three Ballots Required to Decide Between Edgerton and Evansville—Delegates Intend to Meet Here in the Future.

A. S. Flagg carried off the honors in the Second Assembly district today. The convention was called to order in Milton at 11 o'clock.

Evansville men had to come in wagons, and they expressed their opinion of the trip so forcibly that the object of the convention was, for a time, obscured.

P. M. Green was made chairman of the convention, and K. Killam, of Lima, took the position of secretary. Nominating speeches took considerable time.

W. S. Heddles, of Edgerton, presented the name of A. S. Flagg. H. L. Austin, of Evansville, spoke for Almeron Eager, and D. Acheron, of Magnolia, offered A. Hemmingway, of Center.

Then ballots settled it. The informal ballot stood:

Almeron Eager.....	18
A. S. Flagg.....	14
K. Killam.....	5
Robert More.....	1
Scattering.....	5

Eager had 19 on the first formal ballot, Flagg, 18; More, 3; and Killam, 2; while the second formal ballot stood:

A. S. Flagg.....	23
Almeron Eager.....	18
K. Killam.....	2

This settled it and the convention adjourned after deciding that all other Second district conventions be held in Janesville. A district committee was named consisting of F. W. Coon, of Edgerton; G. E. Ingalls, of Evansville, and H. W. Maxson, of Milton.

Wooden Tank of Liberal Proportions Replaces The Iron Structure.

A drinking fountain of a new pattern was put in operation by the city at Monterey today. It is at the corner of Center and Western avenues and instead of an iron bowl that holds two gallons the body of the fountain is a solid wooden tank holding two barrels. It is believed to be more durable than the iron fountains and less conducive to muddy streets.

THERE is one noticeable feature about the new embroideries. The very open edges that have been prevailing for the past two seasons, are gradually disappearing and giving place to firmer edges. The open work may appear, but it will be up higher in the muslin, and the edges themselves are firm and strong. The ladies at a glance, will see the advantage of this new edge in both wear and laundry work. It will wear better, and will not show the frayed edges after it is laundered. The open work that appears on the muslin above the firm edges, is known as eyelet work, and is the latest. Bort, Bailey & Co.

LAST WORDS SPOKEN OVER E. D. TALLMAN

FUNERAL SERVICES AT THE FAMILY HOME.

Many Friends Gather to Pay Their Last Tribute at the Residence and About the Grave—Remarks By Rev. Dr. Hodge—Day's Obituary Record.

Friends filled the Tallman house on North Jackson street, this morning. Many of the pioneers of the city were there, but there was a strong representation from the younger business and profession men as well, for E. D. Tallman, over whose clay earth's last tribute was being spoken, had enjoyed the regard of the young as well as the old. His kindness and courtesy were the theme of many remembrances, as the hour for the funeral approached.

Rev. Dr. Hodge conducted the funeral services, his theme being the message death had for the living. His words were freighted with sympathy, and were heard with deep attention.

The service was rendered by a quartette composed of Mrs. C. F. Yates, Mrs. E. M. Hyzer, C. N. Vankirk and G. G. Paris.

Many stood with the family about the grave at Oak Hill. At the grave as in the home there were many flowers. The pall bearers were J. M. Bostwick, Horace McElroy, B. F. Crossett, R. M. Bostwick, George M. McKey and W. T. Vankirk.

Absence from the state prevented several near relatives from being present. Several are now in California and others are in the east.

Mrs. Dorothy Louise Wachlin aged eighty-two years died this morning at 4 o'clock, of old age, at the home of her son, August Wachlin, in the town of Harmony. ## THE "OUT OF DATE" COUPLE.

We are "so out of date," they say,
Ned and I;
We love in an old fashioned way,
Long since gone by.
He says I am his helpmate true
In everything;
And I—well, I will own to you
He is my king.

We met in no romantic way,
"Twixt 'glow and gloom,"
He wooed me on a winter day
And in a room.
Yet, through life's hours of stress and storm,
When griefs befall,
Love kept our small home corner warm,
And all was well.

Ned thinks no woman like his wife—
But let that pass;
Perhaps we view the dual life
Through roseate glass;
Even if the prospect be not bright,
We hold it true
The heaviest burdens may grow light
When shared by two.

Upon the gilded scroll of fame,
Enblazoned fair,
I cannot hope to read the name
I proudly bear;
But, happy in their even flow,
The years glide by.
We are behind the times, we know,
Ned and I.

—Chambers' Journal.

THE WILL.

I knew this tall young man who was called Rene de Bourneval. He was very agreeable in company, although a trifle sad, seeming to dislike everything, very skeptical—a formal and biting skepticism—clever especially in laying bare in one word worldly hypocrisies. He often repeated, "There are no virtuous men—or at least they are only relatively temperate."

He had two brothers whom he did not visit, the MM. de Courcils. On account of their different names I believed him the offspring of a second marriage. I had been told on several occasions that a strange story had happened in this family, but no details had been given me.

This man being entirely agreeable to me, we were soon good friends. One evening, after I had dined with him, I accidentally asked him, "Were you the offspring of your mother's first or second marriage?" I saw him turn slightly pale, then blush, and he remained some seconds without speaking, visibly embarrassed. Then he smiled in a sweet and melancholy manner which was peculiar to him and said: "My dear friend, if it does not tire you, I will give you some singular details of my parentage. I know you for an intelligent man. I do not therefore fear your friendship for me will suffer, and if it should suffer I should no longer care to have you for a friend."

"My mother, Mme. de Courcils, was a poor, timid little woman, whom her husband had married for her fortune. Her whole life was a martyrdom. Affectionate, fearful, delicate, she was ill treated without intermission by him who should have been my father, one of those churls who are called country gentlemen. After they had been married a month he lived with a servant. He had besides for mistresses the wives and daughters of his tenants. This did not prevent his wife from having two children; including myself, three should be reckoned. My mother said nothing. She lived in that ever noisy house like those little mice that slip in and out under the furniture. Effacing herself, flying away, trembling, she looked at people with her clear, restless eyes, which, always in motion, looked scared with the fear that never left them. She was still pretty, very pretty—very fair with a grayish fairness, a timid fairness, as if her hair had faded a little from her incessant fear."

"Among the friends of M. de Courcils who came frequently to the castle was an old cavalry officer, a widower, a formidable man, tender and violent, capable of the most energetic resolves—M. de Bourneval, whose name I bear. He was a tall, spare fellow, with a heavy black mustache. I resemble him very much. This man had read and thought far more than those of his class. His great-grandmother had been a lover of Jean Jacques Rousseau, and it was said that he had inherited something from this connection of his ancestors. He knew by heart the 'Social Contract,' the 'New Heloise' and all those philosophical books which have prepared beforehand the future overthrow of our ancient customs, of our prejudices, our obsolete laws, our foolish morals."

"He loved my mother, it appeared, and was loved by her. This affair was kept so secret that no one suspected it. The poor woman, sad and abandoned, clung to him desperately and imbibed all his habits of thought, theories of love; but, as she was so timid that she never dared speak loudly, all of it was driven back, condensed, pressed into her heart, which was never opened."

"My two brothers were harsh toward her, like my father—did not care for her—and, accustomed to seeing that she did not count for anything in the house, treated her almost like a servant."

"I was the only one of her sons who really loved her and whom she loved."

"She died. I was then 18. I ought to add, in order that you may understand what is to follow, that, by legal advice, her husband had been provided for, and she had retained her own separate estate, having, thanks to the artifices of the law and the intelligent devotion of a notary, preserved the right to make her will as she pleased."

"We were, therefore, informed by this notary that a will existed and invited to be present at its reading."

"I recall it as if it were yesterday. It was a grand, dramatic, burlesque, surprising scene, called forth by the posthumous revolt of the dead woman, by this cry of liberty, this claim from the depth of the grave of this martyr crushed by our morals during her life. From her shut coffin she threw a despairing appeal toward independence."

"He who believed himself my father, a stout, plethoric man, who put one in mind of a butcher, and my brother, two robust fellows of 20 and 22, waited tranquilly on their seats. M. de Bourneval, who was invited to be present, entered and placed himself behind me. His frock coat was buttoned tightly. He was very pale, and he often nibbled his mustache, now a little grizzled. He doubtless expected what was coming."

"The notary double locked the door and commenced the reading, after having in our presence broken the red wax seal of the envelope, of whose contents he was ignorant."

Suddenly my friend was silent, rose and took from his secretary an old paper, unfolded it, kissed it for a long time and resumed. 'Here is the last will of my dearly loved mother:'

"I, the undersigned, Anne-Catherine Genevieve Mathilde de Croixneue, lawful wife of Jean Leopold Joseph Contran de Courcils, being of sound mind and body, do hereby make my last will."

"I ask forgiveness of God above, and then of my dear son Rene, for what I am now going to do. I think my child is stout hearted enough to understand and to forgive me. I have suffered all my life. I was married from considerations of advantage and was afterward despised, disregarded, oppressed and deceived unceasingly by my husband."

"I forgive him, but I owe him nothing."

"My elder sons have not loved me, have not cared me, have scarcely treated me like a mother."

"I have been to them during my life all I should have been; after my death I no longer owe them anything. The ties of blood do not continue without the constant, sacred affection of each day. An ungrateful son is less than a stranger. He is a culprit, for he has not the right to be indifferent to his mother."

"I have always trembled before mankind, before their iniquitous laws, their inhuman customs, their infamous prejudices. Before God, I no longer fear. Dead, I throw away from me that shameful hypocrisy; I dare to utter my thoughts and to openly avow the secrets of my heart."

"Therefore I leave in trust the whole of that part of my fortune of which the law permits me to dispose to my dear loved lover, Pierre Germer Simon de Bourneval, afterward to revert to our dear son Rene."

(This will has been drawn up in addition, in a more formal manner, by a notary.)

"And before the Supreme Judge, who hears me, I declare that I should have cursed heaven and my existence if I had not found the deep, devoted, tender, unshaken affection of my lover, if I had not learned in his arms that the Creator has made human beings to love, to sustain and to console each other and to weep together in hours of bitterness."

"My two eldest sons are the children of M. de Courcils. Rene alone owes his existence to M. de Bourneval. I pray the Ruler of mankind and their destinies to place the father and son above social prejudices, to make them love each other until their death, and love me still in my grave."

"Such are my last thoughts and my last desire."

"M. de Courcils had risen. He cried, 'That is the will of a mad woman.' Then M. de Bourneval stepped forward and declared in a loud and decisive voice: 'I, Simon de Bourneval, declare that this writing contains only the strict truth. I am ready to prove it by letters in my possession.'"

"Then M. de Courcils walked toward him. I thought they would seize each other by the collar. There they stood, both tall, the one stout, the other spare, quivering. The husband of my mother stammeringly articulated, 'You are a villain!' The other said, in a dry, vigorous tone: 'We will meet in another place, monsieur. I should have affronted and provoked you a long time ago if I had not valued above all else the tranquillity during her life of the poor woman whom you have made to suffer so much.'"

"Then he turned toward me: 'You are my son. Will you come with me? I have not the right to take you away, but I will take you if you wish to accompany me.'"

"I pressed his hand without answering. Indeed, I was almost overcome."

"Two days later M. de Bourneval killed M. de Courcils in a duel. My brothers, afraid of a frightful scandal, kept silence. I transferred to them and they accepted their share of the fortune left by my mother."

"I took the name of my true father, renouncing that which the law gave and which was not mine."

"M. de Bourneval died five years ago. I have not yet found consolation for my grief."

"He rose, took several steps, and, placing himself in front of me, said: 'Well, I say that my mother's will was one of the most beautiful, most loyal, grandest things a woman could accomplish. Is not that your opinion?'"

"I stretched out both hands to him, 'Yes, surely, my friend.'—Guy de Maupassant."

New Orleans Tennis Courts.

"I was walking out St. Charles avenue this morning," said a northern visitor, "and I saw several tennis courts, the lines of which were marked out on the sward by grass of a different color from that which carpeted the court. I made inquiries about the matter and found that nearly all the New Orleans tennis grounds were marked off in that way. It is a very pretty idea, and one that I have never seen anywhere else."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

A Prelate's Eloquence.

In 1104, when Henry I was in Normandy, a prelate named Serlo preached so eloquently against the fashion of wearing long hair that the monarch and his courtiers were moved to tears.

Taking advantage of the impression he had produced, the enthusiastic prelate whipped a pair of scissors out of his sleeves and cropped the whole congregation.—London Fun.

Good News From South Dakota.

The glorious results of this season's harvest of golden grain will pour a stream of sound money into the pockets of every Dakota farmer.

South Dakota has thousands of acres of choice farming and ranch land lying east of the Missouri river, and within one day's ride from Chicago or Milwaukee, which can now be bought reasonably cheap, but which before the end of another year may be advanced in price.

The stock raising industry in South Dakota is profitable and eastern capital is now being invested in cattle and sheep growing in that state.

Diversified farming, the growing of live stock, and the products of the dairy, are placing South Dakota foremost in the ranks of the successful western states.

Those desiring full information on the subject and particularly those who wish to seek a new home or purchase land are requested to correspond with W. E. Powell, General Immigration Agent, 410 Old Colony Building, Chicago, Ill., or to the local agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway.

FASHIONABLE SKIRTS.

They Are Shorter for Walking, With Godets at the Back Only.

Skirts are now worn from half an inch to an inch short of the ground by those women who walk a great deal, and this is quite permissible by fashion. House and carriage gowns touch the floor evenly all around, or they may have a slight train. Walking skirts for country wear may be shorter than those intended for the city, escaping the ground by an inch and a half. Ball gowns for women who do not dance are usually made with a train, as are elaborate dinner and reception gowns.

Skirts have preferably no godets in front or at the sides, the fullness being all carried to the back. The top of the skirt is close fitting, molded to the form by darts or by modification of the upper part of the seams if there are many of the latter. No dart is placed in the middle of the front.

Many women will not wear a skirt without a pocket, although a pocket is an unmanageable adjunct in these days of close fits. If it is placed where one can get at it comfortably, it is one of the most obvious things about the gown, while, if it is so situated as to be successfully concealed from observation, it is usually concealed still more successfully from the wearer of the skirt. The preferred place for securing it is in one of the back seams under the fullness. When it is placed in the seam of the tablier, even although the opening may be marked by flat trimming of some sort, the smallest article placed in the pocket, even a handkerchief, is evident as an unsightly lump. As a matter of fact, dress pockets had their day in the time of full skirts, and they are now better replaced by some sort of chataleine arrangement.

LOUIS QUINZE COAT.

A picture is given of a Louis Quinze coat of broche silk, having pink figures on a Havana brown ground. The coat has a short, rippled basque and a vest of white satin fastened by paste buttons. The vest is rather long, with pocket flaps. There are double revers, the lower of broche silk, the upper of white satin. The collar is of dark Havana brown satin and the cravat of lace. The close sleeves have draped puffs at the top.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

FASHIONABLE FANCIES.

Cherries, Currants and Flowers Tied With Ribbon Adorn Broad Brimmed Hats.

Ruchings are much worn on and under the brim of the hat, especially if it is a large one, and are very becoming to most faces. Hats of drawn chiffon and mousseline de sole are seen and are usually charming in their effect.

Canvas and etamine goods seem to be making a strong bid for popularity, and it is predicted that these materials in the heavy qualities will be extensively worn during the fall and winter. The fondness for mohair continues, and one of the most useful developments of this class of goods is the mohair serge in both wide and narrow ribs. This is glossier and harder twisted than ordinary serge and is eminently suitable for useful and severely correct tailor made gowns.

Sprays of flowers for millinery trimming are now tied with bows of ribbon velvet, a rustic and simple effect very satisfactory on wide brimmed straws. Mercury wings are still much worn in Paris, and there is a violent fancy there for fruit ornamentation, especially cherries, which are occasionally imitated. Red and white currants are also so well simulated that the copies can hardly be distinguished from the natural fruit.

White still largely influences the fashionable toilet, and white costumes of all materials are seen. Light pink or mauve gowns trimmed with white are also seen. White pique, muslin, foulard, gauze and ecru linen prevail and are adorned with lace, embroidery and bows, while the variety of belts, corsets, boleros, bretelles and revers is practically unlimited.

Today's illustration shows a light fancy wrap of black silk gauze. It has a stole and yoke of black net embroidered with jet, the stole being fastened at the waist by bows of black satin ribbon and bordered at the ends with plaitings of black silk gauze edged with white lace. The collar, cuffs and coquilles are also of lace edged gauze plaitings. The half length sleeves of black gauze are finished at the elbow with gauze plaitings like the collar, the plaitings being headed by a torsade and bow of black satin ribbon.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

Suspicious.

"Maud," he said as the carriage entered the shadowy lane, "Maud, are you sure you never had any man's arm about your waist as mine is?"

"No, George, I never did," she murmured. "I never, never did, why?"

"Oh, nothing," he replied, "only I wondered whether it was instinct or experience that made you take the reins from my hand just as soon as we reached this secluded spot."—London Tit-Bits.

Proposals in Boston.

Mr. Beacon Street (Boston)—I presume, Miss Tremont, you are cognizant of the continuation of the symposiums on the interrogatory: "Is Marriage a Failure?" and I beg the privilege of testing the question with you.

Miss Tremont—Since the only way to understandingly embark in the discussion is by practical experiment, I will relinquish my individual freedom and genealogical cognomen to immetate my identity on the altar of metaphysical investigation.—N. Y. Weekly.

A Literary Preference.

"The trouble is," said the man with the loud voice and the positive manner, "that women read too many novels nowadays."

"Oh, I don't know," replied Mr. Meek-ton, as he put his dyspepsia medicine in his vest pocket. "Sometimes I kind o' wish that Maria 'ud take her Ouida an' the Duchess, an' let the cook book alone."—Washington Star.

He Wouldn't Be Popular.

If William Shakespeare, matchless bard! Were on the earth to-day, Just lots of men would try real hard To keep out of his way. This statement may seem fetched too far, And out of reason till You think how many men there are Who hate to meet a Bill.

—L. A. W. Bulletin.

A NEW AMUSEMENT.

Herr Old Clerk spends his Sundays walking past the office windows. The thought that he is not slaving at his desk affords him inexpressible pleasure.—Fliegende Blaetter.

His Burden.

"Where are you going, my pretty maid?" "I'm going a-milking, sir," she said. "And may I go too, my pretty maid?" "You may carry the chalk, kind sir," she said.

—Up-To-Date.

The Powers That Be.

He—I had such a delightful trip out to California. It happened that I made the acquaintance of the president of the road, who was in the same car, and I was very well treated.

She—What did he do for you; anything special?

He—Oh, yes, indeed. He personally introduced me to the porter.—Bay City Chat.

The Reason.

Helen—I understand that Ethel got her hair bleached in Paris.

Agnes—Yes, she tried to, but they were unsuccessful.

Helen—But I notice that it is white as snow.

Agnes—Yes, it turned so when she got the bill.—Town Topics.

Harold's Compliment.

"Harold, our new girl spends all her time talking with agents."

"That comes of her being so good looking."

"Well, I can't afford to have her fritter away her time like that."

"Then, my dear, why not see those people yourself?"—Detroit Free Press.

Horrible.

"My girl gave me the marble heart last night," said the single man.

Your woe is naught to mine," said the married one. "It has not been two hours since my wife gave me the marble cake of her own making."—Indianapolis Journal.

A GREAT BOOK FREE.

When Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., published the first edition of his great work, The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, he announced that after 680,000 copies had been sold at the regular price, $1.50 per copy, the profit on which would repay him for the great amount of labor and money expended in producing it, he would distribute the next half million free.

As this number of copies has already been sold, he is now giving away, absolutely free, 500,000 copies of this most complete, interesting and valuable common sense medical work ever published—the recipient only being required to mail to him, at above address, twenty-one (21) one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only, and the book will be sent post-paid. It is a veritable medical library, complete in one volume. Contains 1008 pages, profusely illustrated. The Free Edition is precisely the same as that sold at $1.50 except only that the books are in strong manilla paper covers instead of cloth. Send now before all are given away.

THE NEW EMBROIDERIES! ARE HERE.

500 pieces, newest patterns, direct from St. Gall, Switzerland. Our arrangements are made direct with the agents for the mills in Switzerland and we pay no middle men or jobbers any profit on these goods. About four times each year we get a large invoice of these Embroideries. They are put up for us by the agents. We rely on them and they send us the newest productions, and, as the ladies of this city know, we show you the prettiest Embroideries at the least price. This lot comprises Cambric, Nainsook and Swiss Embroideries. You can buy them at 5c per yard; you can buy them at $1.50 per yard; you can buy them at all prices between. We are especially strong in qualities selling at 10c, 12 1-2c, 15c, 20c and 25c. There is one noticeable feature about the new Embroideries. The very OPEN EDGES that have been prevailing for the past two seasons are gradually disappearing and giving place to firmer edges. The open work may appear but it will be up higher on the muslin and the edges themselves are firm and strong. The ladies at a glance will see the advantage of this new edge in both wear and laundry work. It will wear better and will not show the frayed edges after it is laundered. The open work that appears on the muslin above the firm edges is known as EYELET WORK and is the latest.
